Autumn - Winter 26/27

Our Story

Akar dan Asa was born from a deep love for Indonesian heritage and a vision to bring it into the future. “Akar” means roots – a symbol of our connection to tradition, craftsmanship, and culture. “Asa” means hope – representing our dream to reimagine these traditions for the modern world.

We work closely with local artisans across Indonesia to highlight the beauty of traditional textiles, weaving their stories into contemporary designs that honor the past while inspiring the future.

Each Akar dan Asa collection carries its own storytelling – drawing from myths, landscapes, and cultural wisdom to give meaning to every piece we create.

South Sea Collection

This collection is inspired by the legend of Nyi Roro Kidul, the Queen of the South Sea and guardian of the southern coast of Java. She is known as a powerful spirit of the ocean, often associated with beauty, mystery, and the color green.

We celebrate this story through the use of traditional fabrics sourced from across Java Island — each look blending heritage textiles with modern silhouettes.

LOOK 1

This look represents the sea. The jacket reflects the sparkle of sunlight on the water, while the dress is inspired by the traditional kebaya.

The jacket is embellished with intricate, hand-stitched beadwork that catches the light beautifully. The dress features kebaya-inspired elements paired with a full skirt, offering both structure and fluid movement.
